I believe we need video game preservation to be an exemption. Video games just like movies and tv shows and music are art and should be preserved. Movies and tv shows and music are treated with respect and love. So why can't video games be ? Copyright law in its current form is outdated. Copyright law in my opinion should be lessened to 20 years max no renewal or abolished. I hate copyright law in its current form because it affects video game preservation. There was a study done 87% of all classic video games before the year 2010 are gone. Nobody can buy them and play them anymore.
