

Congress should act to correct a hornet's nest of red tape and confusion surrounding copyright law, and this is an essential first step. There is no legitimate argument in favor of leaving matters as they are. Reform is needed NOW.