Comment on DMCA "Jailbreaking" exception continuation

Home developers of software are the innovators of tomorrow, they're the school kids experimenting to learn how to make the software better. To do this requires devices for these people to run their software on, the high cost of obtaining reference devices makes it prohibitive to individuals to learn the skills that will make the next generations of these devices better. Jailbreaking these devices doesn't harm the device ecosystem, if anything it enhances it and makes it a richer experience for all the end users. The ability for anyone to take anything and make it more than what it was is one of the greatest gifts we can express.