

Q: Which jailbreaking exemption are you supporting— smartphones/tablets, video game consoles, or both?

Both, because I'm interested to see what the jailbreaking community has for the gaming consoles and for tablets.

Q: What's your background (i.e., are you a developer, hobbyist, academic, independent researcher, user, etc.)?

Half user half developer, I've only made custom tweaks for myself (not for public release as they will be unstable)

Q: What device do you want to ensure you have the legal authority to jailbreak?

Tablets / Smartphones / iPod Touches and all that.

Q: Please explain why you want to jailbreak this device. What limitations do you face if you aren't able to jailbreak it? Is there software you couldn't run, computing capabilities you wouldn't have, cool things you couldn't do, etc.?

The reason is because of the software I couldn't run. Such as for the latest jailbreak I'm able to get XBMC, AdBlock, Flash, Just awesome tweaks and such . (Thanks jailbreaking community!)

Q: If you're a developer, did an online application store or console manufacturer reject your app or game? If so, what reasons did they give?

No , because as I said I've only made a few tweaks for myself that will not be seen public.

Q: Is there anything else you want to tell the Copyright Office?

Give us freedom for our devices please! SOPA , PIPA and ACTA are bad enough!
