

Dear Copyright office

In regards to Orphan Works I'll stick to the basic fact that, if a work is orphaned then plan in simple it needs to be off limits.

For years I have been a graphic designer and Art Director. If I needed a photograph or piece of artwork and could not find the owner or could not afford the usage...I moved on. There is ALWAYS another photo/artwork/etc... I can use

Allowing people to use Orphaned work is like a child saying, "But I want it" and giving into them

Orphan Works is not worthy of discussion. Make Orphan Works off limits. Let them find another piece of work or pay to have something created. This will create jobs and help the creative fields.

Thank You

Von R Buzard
Photographer